

Times Daily
Riverhill School Science Fair Winners
March 14, 2010
25,691 Media Impressions

SPRING FORWARD
Clocks should be set ahead one hour today.

Sunday, March 14, 2010

TIMES DAILY

SPRING FEVER
Purple, White teams play to controversial finish.

Sports 1C

ACADEMIC ACHIEVERS

■ Chelsea Moon, a senior at Deshler High School, received a 4-year Golden Excellence Scholarship valued up to $24,000 from the University of Alabama at Birmingham. She is a member of National Honor Society, art history club and HOSA. The daughter of Chester and Kathleen Moon, she plans to major in biology.

■ Samantha Claire Wilson, a senior at Muscle Shoals High School, has been selected to represent Alabama as a National Youth Correspondent at the 2010 Washington Journalism and Media Conference scheduled for June 27-July 2 at George Mason University, Fairfax, Va. Representatives were chosen based on academic accomplishments and a demonstrated interest and excellence in journalism and media studies.

■ Kylan Edmundson, a senior at Colbert Heights High School, won the 2010 American Legion High Oratorical Contest for Colbert County.

Edmundson

He also won the District 11 competition and received third place in the Division 1 contest.

■ Three students from Riverhill School, Florence, competed in the Alabama Independent School Association State Science Fair on March 4 after placing in the top three at the district level. Students who presented their scientific experiments to teachers, peers and judges at Huntingdon College, Montgomery, include:

■ James Ridgeway, sixth grade, placed third at district competition and first at state for Division I, Biological Science. His research examined which water purifiers best reduced waste in samples from the Tennessee River.

Ridgeway

■ Erin McGabey, seventh grade, placed second at district competition and first at state for Division II, Biological Science. She tested which degree of sunscreen, SPF, provides the most protection against UVA and UVB rays.

McGabey

■ Christopher Nuckels, fifth grade, placed first at district competition for Division I, Physical Science. He compared speed and weight of meteors to determine which caused larger craters upon hitting the earth's surface.

■ Local students named to the fall semester presidential honors list at the University of Alabama at Birmingham for earning a 4.0 grade-point average include:

Anderson — Ansley O. Halrell.
Florence — Adam T.